Commission Reactivated By City Council

Following appointment of a new roster of members, the Seaside Human Relations Commission was revived by the City Council.

At last week's council meeting, Mayor B.J. Dolan appointed Melvin Fortes Jr., Ernest Atkins, William Greenwell, Rita Messick, Linda Mitchell, Marcial Sabado and Reverend Chester Talton to the commission. The appointments were unanimously approved by the council.

The human relations unit was deactiviated last summer, when Dolan declared all positions on it vacant because commissioners were missing too many meetings.

All the commissioners are now except Fortes, who was on the commission when it was disbanded. He and Atkins were appointed to one year terms; Greewell and Mrs. Messick, to two year terms and Talton, Mrs. Mitchell and Sabado, to three year terms.

At the meeting, Dolan also appointed Walter Avery to the art commission. He will complete the term of Tom Webb, which expires January 24, 1976.

Webb, who died recently, was honored by the council. They passed a resolution praising his services and expressing condolences to his family.

In other action the council:

Approved the peninsula-wide shelterplan for civil defense.

Approved the awarding of a contract to the California-Fresno Asphalt Company for slurry sealing of streets. That company submitted a low bid of $4,275. The city also decided to have the city hall parking lot done.

Adopted an ordinance that will revise plan lines for Hillsdale Street, Hilby Avenue and Lopez Street.

Adopted an ordinance rezoning land owned by Louis Haddad at 1340 Fremont Boulevard from R-4 miltiple family to HS (highway service).

Continued until October 5 a public hearing on the elimination of offsite billboards from the city.

Authorized hiring of an appraiser to establish an insurance claim on Pioneer House child care center's city-owned building which was recently destroyed by fire.

CAUSE FOR CELEBRATION! - Seaside Chamber of Commerce One Day Membership Drive, September 20, was hugh success! Forty-five new members were brought into Chamber in just one day. Receiving congratulations (left to right) are: Don Butts of Butts Pontiac-Cadilac, who brought in 8 new members; Dick Penrose of Seaside Pharmacy, Membership Chairman who brouht in one new member even though he couldn't leave his store all day; Verlaine Crawford, Executive Director of Chamber; Jim Wester of Wester Volkswagen, who brouht in 6 new members and Bob McCauley of Cardinal Moving and Storage, who was overall winner with 12 new members. It was great day for Chamber as membership reaches 200.

Haddad Will Wait to Accept Appointment

Former mayor Lou Haddad has said that he is willing to defer or give up his appointment to the Seaside Redevelopment Agency if it will mean harmony to the city.

Haddad said that he was very sorry that his appointment by Mayor B. J. Dolan caused so much controversy.

When the appointment was announced last week, all four city councilmen said that they thought the appointment should deferred for a period of thirty days. Two of the council members even went so far as to denounce it as a "railroad job" and a "fantastic political maneuver."

After the opinions of the council were made known, Haddad said, "I will not accept this appointment for a period of 30 days in deference to the desires of the city council. If within that time there is not substantial agreeement among those who oppose my appointment, I suggest that another person be considered for the sake of harmony and accord in our city.

"When I was a candidate for the office of supervisor, I publically stated that, win or lose, I would make myself available to serve in any capacity where any legislative body deems I could be of service.

"I contend that is a community is good enough to live in, it is good enough to devote some of your time to it.

"I need to devote more time to my family and business and I am always available to serve my community, but only under terms and in a capacity acceptable to all concerned.

"I believe there is an overriding necessity for unity and harmony, and that these are far more essential than my service to our communtiy."

Talcott Is Happy With New Law

Congressman Burt L. Talcott expressed deepgratification over the enactment of the Survivor's Benefit Plan into law.

The new act will give the Military Retiree a realistic opportunity to provide for one's surviving spouse and minor dependents -- a privilege which has long been enjoyed by Federal Civil Service personnel.

Citing the need for this legislation, Talcott said, "The present annuity system - the Retired Serviceman's Family Protection Plan has remained ineffective, despite seven revisions by the Congress."

Talcott said the new program is actuarilly sound since military personnel will contribute to the Plan, while on active duty, in amounts similar to Civil Service contributions.

"This plan" Talcott said, "will correct an inequity that exists in the pay of our military retirees. It is a permanent program which provides a new benefit for all career members of the armed forces and their families. Also, this legislation should enhance the success of the all-volunteer army."

"Because I was one of the original sponsors of this legislation in 1968, I am pleased to have played a small roll in establishing this annuity program which may be one of the most significant pieces of legislation passed by this Congress," Congressman Talcott concluded.

Program For Seniors Is Announced

The Seaside Recreation and Parks Department's Adult Senior Citizens Club in cooperation with the Meals on Wheels Inc. will offer hot meals to Senior Citizens at its Adult Center, 972 Hilby Avenue in Seaside, Wednesday October 4th at 12:30 p.m.

This will be the first of a monthly program that will be offered throughout the year.

The program will be as follows: 12:30 to 1:30- Lunch (Spaghetti, Salad, French Bread) 1:30 to 2:00 - Movie (Only the Strong) 2:30 to 3:00 - Entertainment.

All Senior Citizens interested in attending should call the Seaside Recreation and Parks Department at 294-8531 ext. 28 for reservations. Only 40 people can be accommodated. Transportation to and from the Adult Center is available upon request and a $1 donation is asked to offset the cost of the entire program.

Letter From Roger Poyner

I am presently a candidate for the office of Supervisor of our fourth district. I consider it a challenge, a responsibility and an honor to participate in our country's hard won democratic elective process. Before this campaign really gets started I would like to pause for a moment and share with your readers a bit of advice given to me a long time ago.

"If you would aspire to be a leader first be honest with yourself and you will be honest with others. If you are asked a question and you are ignorant of the answer, say so. The people understand that a man who has all the answers is either a fool or has only himself to question.

"Take the high road which is as difficult as it is honorable. Know however that selfish men of lesser purpose will appear and attempt to distract you by spreading false rumers and half-truths. Resist the temptation to answer. Your time and energy is limited and should be expended only to achieve the greater goals which you have set. The people will consider the sources of your irritation and will ignore them just as you should."

These and other bits of practical wisdom were passed on to me by a close friend who is now deceased. I do not know their original source, but I do intend to take the advice.

Sincerely,
ROGER POYNER

(Editor's note: Under normal circumstances this item by Rober Poyner, Candidate for Supervisor of the Fourth District, would appear in our "Letters to the Editor" column on the editorial page. However, because a letter from former mayor Lou Haddad concerning Mr. Poyner and his candidacy was mistakenly placed on page one of last week's Seaside POST News-Sentinel, we are placing this here in the sense of fair play.)

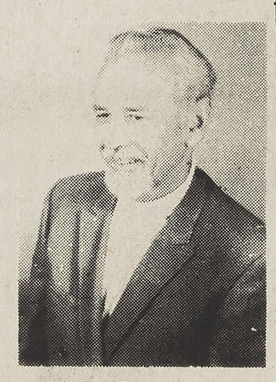
Seaside Ripples

A. E. 'Andy' Barragan, Publisher

By Clint Porter
(In the absence of Andy Barragan)



A.E. Barragan

I shouldn't mention the hectic week because some of my readers may have a feeling that it was distastful. It was far from that. But it was a busy week. In reading the newspapers, it was a busy week all over the world. Russia supplying Syria with arms. A private plane dropping in an ice cream parlor in Sacramento. McGovern gaining votes and silently thanking Agnew for them. The on-and-off appointment into the Seaside Redevelopment Agency. The recuperation from the Jazz Festival. The release (Ihope) of the P.O.W.'s by Hanoi. And several other news items you have seen in the papers. Now we are into another week. This one is definitely slated to be a hum-dinger. With races at Laguna Seca, Folk Festival at Big Sur, important meetings of the Chamber of Commerce and the City Council, all coming up this week. It should be an even more hectic week ahead. So the past week was not distastful at all when it is to be compared with the one we are in now.

On a more pleasant side, let's mention briefly the joy that was spread when "Aunt Lil" paid a visit to my boss Andy. Aunt Lil is one of those rare family members of Mr. Barragan's who spreads joy and happiness just by being around. She was accompanied by her daughter, Pat; her son-in-law, Jim and her granddaughter Terry. I was invited over to join the fun. And fun it was. You see Aunt Lil has a motel in her hometown

Sickle Cell Testing Is Saturday

Sickle Cell Anemia is a serious and often deadly inherited blood disease that is commonly found in young black people--- 1 out of 10 blacks carry the trait for sickle cell and 1 out of 400 are likely to have sickle cell anemia.

Some caucasians, particularly those whose ancestors come from the Mediterranean area, the Middle East and parts of India may also have either form of the disease.

Little has been done to combat the inherited disorder through detection, education, treatment and research, although the cause has been known for over 20 years.

The Harambe Medical Clinic will once again be providing sickle cell trait testing and counseling this Saturday, at the Harambe, Medical Clinic 1186 Broadway, Seaside. For more information on the testing call: 394-7721.

McDonald's Will Help United Fund Drive

You will be helping the 15 health and social service agencies served by the Monterey Peninsula United Fund if you buy food and beverages from McDonald's Hamburgers from 50 to 7 p.m. Friday, September 29, 1972.

The total amount of all sales during this two-hour period will be turned over to the United Fund, now conducting its annual fund drive in an effort to raise $230,000 for next year's operations. In addition, employes will contribute their wages during the same period, making this an employe-management cooperative effort.

The Seaside restaurant at 1433 Fremont Boulevard will be participating in this United Fund event for the fourth year, but it is a first time deal for the newer McDonald's at 610 Del Monte Avenue in Monterey.

"With two restaurants taking part this year, we hope to be able to make a much larger contribution than in earlier years," said Fred Sandman, owner of both McDonald's on the Peninsula.

At the first United Fund night at McDonald's in Seaside three years ago the amount raised was $614.12 from management and $152 from employes. In 1970 management gave $710.19 and employes $180. A year ago management's donation was $839.38 and that of employes $180.

Last year the United Fund raised $209,000 for the following agencies: Alcoholism Council of the Monterey Peninsula, Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls, Family Service Agency, Gateway Center, Girl Scouts, Handicapped Activities Unlimited, Salvation Army, Traveler's Aid, U.S.O. (local and national), Visiting Nurses Association, Boys' Club of American and Suicide Prevention Center.

Prevention Center Needs Volunteers

Applicants will be interviewed by a screeing committee and those accepted will begin instruction on October 17,1972.

Upon completion of the training, volunteers will be prepared to offer realistic help to individuals in crisis.

A 24-hour telephone service is maintained to receive calls from the despondent and troubled and to suggest appropriate alternatives to suicide. This includes referral to social welfare, religious and medical specialists, as circumstances indicate. Volunteers must be prepared to give four hours a week during the daytime and weekdays.

Applicants may obtain details by dialing 373-0713 or 373-6363.

VA Reminds Vets of Deadlines

Vietnam Era servicemen returning to civilian life have key deadlines to remember, the Veterans Administration pointed out recently.

Here is the deadline time table:

* In ten days, report address to Selective Service through local board (in person or by mail).
* In 30 days, register with Selective Service or any local board, if not already registered.
* In 90 days, apply to former employer re-employment.
*As soon as possible, register with local state employment service office. (Veterans have up to a year to apply for unemployment compensation, but applications filed after a long period of unemployment could result in a lower rate of unemployment compensation).
* In 120 days, or one year if totally disabled at time of separation, convert Servicemen's Group Life Insurance (without examination) to private, commercial policy.
* Within one year from date of notice of VA rating on disability, apply to any VA office for G.I. life insurance based on service-connected disability.
* Within one year, apply to any VA office for dental care.
* As soon as possible, apply to any VA office for G.I. education or training, which must be completed within eight years of separation from military service.

There are no time limits for veterans to:

* Apply to any VA office for a G.I. loan guaranty to buy a farm, or buy, build or improve a home.
* File claims with any VA office for compensation for service-connected disabilities or disease, or apply for hospital care.
* Seek assistance from local offices of state employment service in finding employment or entering Labor Department job training programs.

The VA said its 72 veterans assistance centers around the country are ready to help veterans get a quick start in civilian life.

Two Scouts Achieve Eagle Rank

HIGHEST RANK - Robert L. Rangle Jr. (left) and Harry D. Stuart admire each other's Eagle Scount medals which they were awarded during Eagle Scout Court of Honor.

". . . To this I pledge my sacred honor." Those words are spoken by every member of the Boy Scouts of America. But Tuesday evening, September 12, two scouts spoke those words with more sincerity and meaning than every before.

Robert L. Rangle Jr., 16, and Harry D. Stuart, 14, members of Ft. Ord's Boy Scout Troop 100, became Eagle Scouts, a most honored title, in an Eagle Court of Honor ceremony.

According to Sergeant First Class Alfred Stuart, Ft. Ord's Boy Scout Information Officer, "Only one percent of the nation's members in the Boy Scout organization achieve the Eagle Scout classification. Of the approximate 1,000 scouts on the Monterey Peninsula, our scout troop has an outstanding record as we have had eight members in the past year achieve the honor of Eagle Scout."

To become an Eagle Scout, the scout must have acquired at least 21 merit badges and have been recognized on three Eagle Scout requirements. These requirements are reviewed by a board comprised of Boy Scout leaders at their national headquarters.

(1) He must have "Scout Spirit" (the esprit de corps of scouting). He must live up to the oath and law of the Boy Scouts.

(2) He must be an active "Scout Participant." His records are carefully reviewed by the selecting board for leadership abilities and his active participation in the organization.

(3) He must have "Scout Craft." He must be able to take care of himself in the out of doors.

Robert L. Rangle Jr., son of First Sergeant and Mrs. Robert Rangle Sr., of 402 Third Ave., Ft. Ord, has been in the scout program for eight years. Robert has earned 21 merit badges and holds six awards, including the Order of the Arrow award. During this time, he has held such offices as Den Chief, Patrol Leader, Junior Assistant Scoutmaster and Instructor. Robert is a sophomore at Seaside High.

Harry D. Stuart, son of Sergeant First Class and Mrs. Alfred Stuart of 200 Malmedy Dr., has been in scouting for six years. Harry has earned 33 badges during this time and holds eight awards, including the Gold Quill and the Order of the Arrow. He has held such offices ad Den Chief, Quartermaster, Assistant Patrol Leader, Patrol Leader, Assistant Senior Patrol Leader and Instructor. Harry is a freshman at Fitch Junior High, Ft. Ord.

Apply For Air Force Scholarships

Male high school students who will graduate in 1973 and are interested in flying are eligible to apply for an Air Force ROTC four-year college scholarship.

One thousand four-year college scholarships are available for students who will enroll in the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps at one of the colleges and universities in the United States and Puerto Rico which offer the four-year program.

The scholarship pays full tuition, laboratory fees, and textbook reimbursement. In addition, each scholarship student receives a monthly nontaxable subsistence allowance of $100.

All applicants for a scholarship must qualify on the Air Force Officer Qualifying Test and on an Air Force medical examination. A special committee of Air Force officers will evaluate all students who apply for a scholarship. They will consider the student's scores on the American College Test or the Scholastic Aptitude Test, high school grades, extracurricular activities and personal references.

Interested students must submit their applications postmarked no later than November 15. Application forms and additional information may be obtained by writing Directorate of Admissions, Air Force ROTC, Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama 36112.

and who can find a more cheerful subject to talk about? I'll sleep in the car from now on.

But Aunt Lil is a warm person, not easily excited, and congenial. She is willing to give you the shirt off her back. (If you dan find a better expression, use it). One is able to almost see the admiration she has for Andy and Jean. So you should not be surprised to learn that Aunt Lil is a Subscriber to the Seaside Post - News Sentinel. Since Mrs. Barragan has been so busy seeing to Mr. Barragan's every need, she has not had time to write often. But Aunt Lil solved that problem by taking out a subscription and threatening to cut off my index finger if I failed just one week in not informing her of Andy's progress.

I do not have to say a thing this week about Andy because Aunt Lil was here to see firsthand if what I have been saying about his progress is really true. It is true. Incidently last week I mentioned that he may be walking a mile a day by the time the paper came out. Not only was he already walking a mile at publication time, now he can walk two miles per day with just a wee bit of fatigue. When is the last time YOU walked two miles? Or me? The success of Andy's condition is Faith. I said that so many times in the past that you just may be believing me by now.

Speaking of Faith reminded me of something I had previously read that was written by Marjorie Holmes. She wrote two best sellers that I know of, one was "I've Got to Talk to Somebody, God," and the other was "Love and Laughter." In "Love and Laughter," she said this about Faith:

"It takes years, often a lifetime, to reach one's dedicated convictions, or at least a workable philosophy to live by.

"It takes trial and error, despair, and even bitter rejection as you follow false paths, find yourself at dead ends, and retreat, rest, and wait. Then a new spark is touched in you - by something someone says, and off you go again. But each time a little more secure, less likely to grope and grapple in vain.

"What eventually evolves may be a special combination of principles, perceptions, and that can't be transferred to another. Yet if it enhances your joy in living, makes you a better person, and sustains you in times of trouble, that is the test.

"I don't think anyone is truly happy until he has worked out some private pattern, not only for getting along with people, but for getting along with God."

As a boy, I was raised and educated in the Eastern part of the United States. I was in what was then called the Civilian Conservation Corps. One of my duties (the winter I was there), was to drive a team of dogs over the snow. There was one dog who just refused to do right. When I pulled the reins to the left, he went to the right. When I gave the commend to "Go," he would sit down. He always did just what you did not want him to do at the time.

Then an idea struck me; so I changed his position. I made him a "follower," not a "leader." And it worked out fine. The same principal can apply to humans. Afterall, it is said that they are more intelligent than animals. If you come to resent a man when he is in a high position, or a "leader," and continue to resent the same man when he is placed in another position that takes him out of the category of "leader," you should not resent his new position until you are certain he will turn "left" or "right" against the command. It could be just the position he was suited for. FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

Andy says "hi." I will try to persuade him to write a few lines for you in the next couple of weeks, so hang in there. He is blasting out orders to the main office now and all I can say is "Keep your Powder Dry."

Your Supervisor Reports

Loren Smith

Several things have taken place recently which will affect the people of Seaside either directly or indirectly....the long awaited Revenue Sharing Bill has finally been passed by the United States Congress. Under this bill the County and Cities of Monterey County will share over four million dollars. Out of this amount the City of Seaside will receive a substantial amount that will help to provide necessary services for the people and perhaps relieve some of the tax burden.

Also last week I attended a meeting of the Governor's Council on Inter-Governmental Employment of which I am a member. This meeting was important to us because Monterey County has an application before this Commission in the amount of $35,000 for the purpose of starting a specialized training program for local government employees. The Counties of San Benito and Santa Cruz as well as most of the Cities in the three County area will all participate in this study. The $35,000 is only the first one year grant and the study is expected to continue for three years with additional funding. This study is designed to help upgrade all government employment and improve employee relations as well as working conditions.

Another item of significance was the tentative decision of the Board of Supervisors to combine all of the Counties Health Agencies under one director. This would make it possible for the Health Department, General Hospital and the Welfare Department to better coordinate their programs with the resulting benefit to our health services recipients of better coordination by eliminating overlapping areas of responsibility. We expect to commence recruiting for a Director of Health Services for the County of Monterey, shortly after October 1st.

Your Seaside Street Department

by N. Duffy

Have you ever wondered what the street sweepers do? Each of our two sweepers drive the equivalent of one and one-half times across the United States just to keep the streets of Seaside clean. Over 9,500 miles of city streets are cleaned annually.

Dirt and trash, 4,140 tons of it, were removed by our sweepers from the streets last year; an average of a ton of refuse every two miles of street. Graphically, 4,000 tons of dirt would cover six and one-half miles of sidewalk six inches deep.

These statistics were accrued by two Street Maintenance men who operate our street sweepers. These men, Bob Smith and Harold Johnson drive the vehicles that keep city streets clean. The begin sweeping at 4:00 a.m. when traffic congestion is minimal. Every residential street is swept once a week, and Seaside's business area is swept three times weekly.

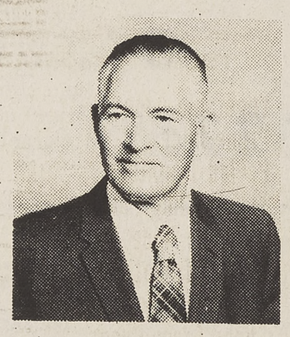
The residents of Seaside play an important role in keeping their city streets clean. In the past, the sweepers have been unable to completely clean the streets due to the number of parked cars in the area that they sweep. Residents have complained to us about strings of dirt left in the road by the sweeper. These strings are caused when the sweepers change direction, in action necessitated by parked cars on the streets. The cleaning of the gutter where dirt and debris most often collect is also prevented by parked cars. Your cooperation and consideration is essential for success in your city's program to keep our streets clean.

If you wish to contact City Hall, we can tell you on what day the sweeper cleans your street. This schedule remains unchanged unless that day is a holiday, then the street is not done until the following week. We hope all people who have garages and driveways will use them on the days their streets are to be swept.

Our request for community participation involves very little effort. The effort parallels the one residents make on garbage pickup day. You incorporate that event in your daily routine. However the effect of not having your street swept completely is not as traumatic as keeping your smelly garbage for another week. The principle involved is civic pride.

The success of a community depends on its residents. If the people have pride in their city, that city will reflect that pride. Seaside has made great strides in its eighteen years of incorporation. With the people continuing to care about their neighborhoods, their schools and their government, Seaside will continue to grow, prosper and improve.

As I See It



BY MEL VERCOE

What a tempting salad-thousand island dressing and fresh Salinas Valley lettuce grown to crisp maturity with equally fresh San Francisco Bay sewage effluent. And don't get any wild ideas that this is fantasy. The Army Corps of Engineers has suggested that this be studied further, and of course the idea does have merit, whether you like lettuce salads or not.

The San Francisco Bay region, 12 heavily populated California counties, is not much different from other parts of the United States. A lot of water and waste products wind up in sewage pipes running toward sewage disposal plants, which is only half the problem. The effluent or liquird left over after treatment has to be disposed of, and because it isn't exactly like bottled distilled water there is a lot of opposition when it is dumped into the ocean where people like to swim and catch fish and occasionally fall off a surfboard.

And in the Salinas Valley there is also a problem - a shortage of water to irrigate the crops. Therefore, the solution is very simple. Pipe the sewage effluent from San Francisco to Salinas and let it soak into the ground so it can be pumped up and used for watering the lettuce, strawberries, artichokes, cabbage, etc.

Hopefully, the people in the San Francisco Bay area will pay for installing the pope and do the maintenance on the pumps. If Salinas Valley taxpayers have to bear this cost, then it would be better to make a deal with Carmel and Pebble Beach to get their sewage water, which would undoubtedly be of much higher quality than that from San Francisco, Berkeley and Milpitas.

It would be sporting of me, I suppose, to apologize at this time for possible betting the whole stinking mess started. A few years ago I suggested in a newspaper article, when San Francisco Bay was threatening to pipe their sewage into the Pacific at Half Moon Bay, that some inland areas be selected and declared disaster areas, after which the sewage would be piped there and sprayed all over to evaporate.

Anyway, somebody saved the Pacific Ocean, we may have lost Salinas, Morgan Hill, Gilroy, Prunedale and most the the tourist trade in this part of California. Fortunately, there is a good chance that more sewage water would come thru the popes than would soak into the ground, and Salinas Lake could be one of the wonders of the world, with scientists coming from all over the world to look at it thru telescopes from ten or twenty miles away, depending on which way the wind was blowing.

It could happen. Twelve counties have twelve times as many votes in Sacreamento as one county, and as I see it our best bet is to put in a popeline of our own and start pumping our sewage toward San Francisco before they overwhelm us with theirs. If we fail in that we will have to rely on such sabotage as occasionally reversing the pumps to create confusion in their bathrooms.

Your Mayor Reports

Joe Dolan

PROPOSITION "A"

OPEN SPACE CONSERVATION AND PARK DISTRICT

At the Council meeting of September 21, 1972, Mayor Pro Tem Steve Ross raised the question of Seaside's Council support of the proposed Open Space Conservation and Park District that is a local issue to be on the November 7 ballot.

As your Mayor, it is my responsibility to speak out or comment on issues that directly affect your taxes. If the Open Space District is approved by the voters on November 7, the new Regional District, that will have been created, will impose a maximum tax set at ten cents per $100 assessed valuation. This is equal to a tax of $8.00 per year on a $30,000 home. The new district will become, much like the present Airport District, an additional overlay of government. This would also result in a loss of "home rule" insofar as how your taxes are to be spent, wherethey are to be spent, and for what open space and parks.

In doing my "homework" on this Proposition A, I learned that Open Space District boundaries are the same as the Monterey Peninsula College District - from Marina on the north to south of Big Sur and including Carmel Valley; and the proponents or supporters of this measure are in the main from Carmel, Carmel Valley and Pacific Grove. They are the ones who would stand to benefit - also in the main - if this Open Space Conservation and Park District is approved by the voters!

Currently, Seaside has seventeen (17) parks - plus another 7 1/2 acre site at La Salle and Noche Buena, which is out to bid right now by our Redevelopment Agency, for another neighborhood park and ball diamond area. Quite frankly and honestly there is no other open space, excluding Laguna Grande, that the proposed Open Space Regional District could acquire for us.

In the next four weeks, I urge you to become thoroughly knowledgeable on this issue. Space is too short here for me to cover the many ramifactions of this proposal.

As your elected official, I believe that I would be doing Seaside's citizens a terrible wrong if I didn't speak against this issue. I personally will vote against this porposition on November 7.

I want to thank Councilman Ross for bringing this matter into proper focus for me. Steve Ross is to be congratulated for always looking out for Seaside's welfare.

Tomorrow night, Thursday, September 28, the Area Planning Commission will meet in the Seaside City Hall Council Chambers at 8 p.m. I urge as many of you as possible to attend and voice your own opinions.

Chamber of Commerce Progress Report

by Verlaine Crawford, Executive Director

200 Members! For the first time in 10 years, the Seaside Chamber of Commerce has mo Chamber of Commerce has moved above the traditional 150 members. When I came to Seaside six months ago, the Chamber had 120 members on the roster. People were discouraged and there was a negative feeling in the air. But there were a few people who believed that the Chamber could grow, and they were right!

On Wednesday, September 20, twenty members of the Chamber met for breakfast at the Egglet in Seaside. Cards with names of prospects were selected and each went their separate way to bring in new members to the Chamber.

At 5:30 p.m. we all met at the American Legion for cocktails with the new members who had joined during the day. By 7:30 p.m. all the cards were talled and a grand total of 45 new members were announced to the world. I am thrilled beyound words by the tremendous effort put forth by the people who particiapted.

The three top winners, who will be treated to dinner for two at their favorite Peninsula Restaurant, are Bob McCauley of Cardinal Moving and Storage, who brought in 12 new members; Don Butts of Butts Pontiac-Cadilac, who brought in 8 new members; Jim Wester of Wester Bolkswage, who brought in 6; and Mark Sincoff, Seaside Attorney, who was runner-up with 5 new members.

Of course, the next move is to get these new members (and old members) involved in the activities of the Chamber. New action groups will be set up to deal with specific problems which plague the local businessman.

The next big event in Seaside will be the Grand Opening Celebration and Champagne Party at the Thunderbird Motel on Fremont. The Chamber is sending out invitations, and it will be a good opportunity for members to get acquainted.

The latter part of October will be a good time for a general membership luncheon for the entire Chamber. I hope to discuss specific complaints and problems that each member feels is important to the well-being of Seaside. Action groups will be formed from this evaluation.

The Nominating Committee of the Chamber is currently choosing names to run on the ballot for the Chamber's Board of Directors. Each member serves for two years with half the tital 15 being reelected each year. Ballots will be sent out in October. The installation of officers he held in January.

There are over 500 businesses in Seaside. Two hundred is a good start for membership, but I believe that every business should belong to the Chamber, because a strong community means a profitable business for you. There's no reason why citizens who do not own businesses should not belong to the Chamber--anyone interested in helping to make Seaside a better place to live, work and play, should take an active part in helping the Chamber of Commerce.

The Board of Directors are now meeting the 2nd and 4th Thursdays of each month. You are welcome to come, whether or not you are a member, and voice your opinion or sit and listen. The Business Development Meetings are the second Wednesday of every month. This Committee meets with the Planning Department and the Redevelopment Agency at the Chamber offices to discuss the development of business in Seaside.

Additional monthly meetings will be forth-coming. See you on Thursday, Sept. 28 at 8 a.m. at the Chamber of Commerce.

Letter to the Editor

Editor: What's the matter with the world, sais I
It's a sorry mess, said he
I know there's much amiss, said I But what makes it so to be?
If you want to make a case, said he. Just blame the human race, said he
That's what makes it so to be!

Why the wars decry
With only millions slain
When poisoned earth and sky
Billions may kill amain?

Back in the horse and buggy days, the ecology was natural and fairly clean, and the government stayed put and didn't reach out beyond Washington, D.C. The automobile is responsible for many of our troubles: people go places and carry their messy habits with them. If this is pessimistic, OK, then, who can be an optimist?

Mr. Jerry C. Allen

Mr. Allen, being one of the few civilians' employed by the Seaside Police Department, works as a Records clerk. Mr. Allen joined the Department in 1966 after spending 23 years with the U.S. Army. He retired at Fort Ord, and has lived in Seaside since 1958. Jerry is married and has two sons who are in college.

During his 23 years with the Armed Forces, Jerry saw action during WW II, and again in Korea. Although he is a native of Penn. he decided to plant his roots here in the city of Seaside.

Jerry has been heard to say that "the records clerks are the backbone of this department and don't forget it, without us you officers could not find anything in the way of a report."

Jerry is now convalescing after having surgery, (where? where else, on his back).

VolunteersEnd Summer Of Helping

Young people of the peninsula area's high schools, who gave up some of their usual summer vacation pleasures to do volunteer work at Community Hospital, were thanked at a hospital sponsored luncheon Saturday, September 9th, which ended the summer junior volunteer program.

Their rewards included words of praise from Assistant Administrator Jay Hudson, Auxiliary President Mrs. Harold L. Nielsen, Junior Volunteer Chairman Mrs. Richard Schnal, and chairmen of the services involved: Reception Desk, Snack Bar, Library, X-ray, Laboratory, Physical Therapy and Central Supply. Each volunteer also received a certificate of appreciation from hospital administration.

For those meeting specific hours requirements there were pins awarded by Mrs. Schnal's assistant, Mrs. Barbara Thomas, a former Candy Striper.

Two rocking chairs, purchased from funds collected in membership dues, were presented by Tina Tomlinson, president of the junior volunteer council, to Mrs. Lee Coelho, supervisor of the obstetrical department, as a gift for the hospital nursery.

In expressing appreciation for the gift, Mrs. Coelho revealed plans for redecorating the nursery, and adopting the new precept in hospital "preemie" care, which would include the use of the rocking chair.

Mrs. Nielsen outlined plans for more emphasis on junior voluntary action within the hospital. Throughout the state, she said, adult volunteer organizations are asked to accelerate their youth programs.

Candy Stripers and junior male volunteers were:

From Monterey: Craig Allen, Cathy Antezzo, Jeanine Bardsley, Maurine Cross, Debbie Fiduccia, Jennifer Francis, Carol Hanna, Sherry Hartsock, Mark Kaminski, Sharon Krusi, Coolie Madden, JenMessinger, Sheree Nash, Edward Tanaka, Debi Thorngate and Patricia Zehna;

County Gets Reimbursed

In the first ten months of the Support Enforcement Incentive Fund program, the state has paid out more than $3 million to counties to reimburse them for the cost of collecting support payments to delinquent fathers of needy children, Welfare Director Robert B. Carleson said today.

County claims of more than $500,000 were paid to 52 counties for the month of August, said Carleson. Monterey County's share was $50,623.10.

Los Angeles, with nearly 45 percent of the absent parent caseload, leads the state in SEIF payments for the first ten months of the program with $437,000.

The money has been used in Los Angeles to add 54 positions to the district attorney's child support staff and to create a civil paternity unit within that office.

Orange County is running a close second to Los Angeles, having received $390,000 to date. Alameda, Sacramento, San Bernardino, San Diego and Santa Clara have all received more than $200,000.

The state payments amount to a rebate of collections sufficient to make the county collection effort self-supporting.

The SEIF is a key provision of the Welfare Reform Act of 1971, which went into effect last October 1.

Educational Spectrum at Ord Broadens

The establishment of individual learning centers, with more emphasis placed on higher education for the career soldier, was the topic of discussion recently between Roy T. Diduk, director of education for Continental Army Command, and Ft. Ord's educators.

According to rodger M. Norwood, educational counselor at Ft. Ord's education center, Mr. Diduk visioned learning centers at Ft. Ord that contained audio-visual equipment. These centers would have televisions which program video taped educational classes. They could contain military occupational ontain military occupational specialty refresher courses or general subjects such as english and mathematics, and a person could select any number of subjects. There has been a request sent to Department of Army to establish such centers at Ft. Ord.

Mr. Norwood went on to say "We believe that these centers should be a building with a library type atmosphere condusive to learning. This would take new buildings. So we aren't talking about a project that would be completed next month but nine months to a year from now."

Mr. Diduk also discussed the minimum educational goals set up by the Department of Army last December. Those goals were: Offices should have at least a baccalaureate degree and 20 percent of all officers should have advanced degrees; Non-Commissioned Officers are encouraged to obtain a two-year college equivalency; Enlisted personnel will complete a high school education as soon as possible after entering the service. With these goals in mind there will be a broader spectrum of high school and college courses offered at Ft. Ord.

Mr. Norwood said, "In my opinion as the war winds down and the Army shrinks in size, soldiers not achieving these educational goals will be at a definate disadvantage.

Cub Scout Night Is Tonight

Boys in 31 elementary schools can join the CubScouts September 27. School Night for Cut Scouting Chairman Jay Cobb announced that coordinators have been recruited to help Cubmasters in Marina, Fort Ord, Seaside, Monterey, Pacific Grove, Carmel, and Carmel Valley on that night. Each school will be open from 7:30 to 9 p.m. so boys of the 3rd, 4th, and 5th grades can bring their parents to join the local Cub Scout Pack.

Local Cub Leaders received training on September 18 and 20, so that all schools have a similar program tonight.

This is the 4th year such a program has been held, with increasing results. Over 400 boys and their parents are expected to join Cubbing during the one evening. Parents will become Den Leaders and Pack helpers as their boys are accepted by existing leaders.

Cubbing is for boys having completed the 2nd grade, or 8 years of age. It is a home-centered program geared to accomplish three objectives: character development, citizenship training, and personal fitness. The boys are assigned to dens of 6-8 boys each, and they meet weekly at their Den Leaders home, usually after school during the week. Once a month the dens come together for an evening meeting of boys, parents, and leaders; at which time awards are presented to those who have earned them, and demonstrations of skills learned are presented for the benefit of all.

The Arrow of Light is the highest award in Cub Scouting, usually earned by a 10 year old boy just before he enters the improved Scouting program. Currently, there are 30 Cub Packs and 32 Scout Troops meeting locally, scattered from Marina to Carmel Valley and Big Sur. Each of them has room for the sons of interested parents.

For information on the unit nearest your home, call the Boy Scouts of America at 422-5338.

School Needs OldMagazines

An art teacher at King Junior High School, in Seaside, has issued a plea for old magazines for use in her classroom.

Teacher Kristine Moster said the school's art classes "are badly in need of old magazines, especially those with many photographs, such as Life, Look Ebony and National Geographic."

Magazines can be delivered to the school, located at 1713 Broadway, weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

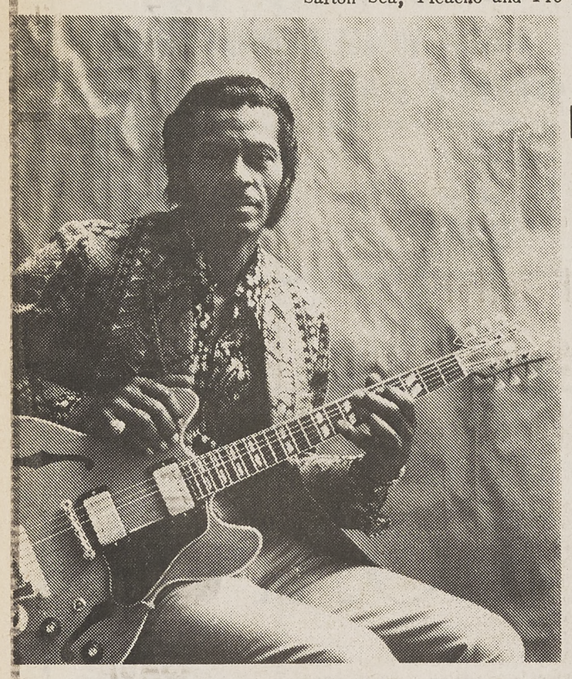
State Offers Bargains For Winter Trips

Now that the mad-rush vacation season is over, many a wise Californian is planning one or more leisurely outings during the off-season. If that person is you, the State Department of Parks and Recreation has good news for you.

Instead of paying $3 or $4 a night for camping at a state park, beach, or recreation area for $10 you can buy a book of 10 tickets good for 10 nights at most units of the State Park System. That's a bargain if you use only half the tickets.

The book tickets are good for any type of camping--trailer, developed, or primitive---on a first-come, first-served basis for most non-desert parks from October 1 through the end of February and for desert parks from June 1 through September 30. The desert parks are Anza Borrego Desert and Saddleback Butte State Parks, and Salton Sea, Picacho and Providence Mountains State Recreation Areas.

Parks not included in the off-season bargain are Doheny, San Clemente, San Elijo, and South Carlsbad State Beaches in Southern California (they fill up year around) and Sugar Pine Point State Park in El Dorado County, which has been winterized for cold-weather camping. Also not included are those campgrounds operated by a concessioner or by some public agency other than the state. You may buy your $10 off-season ticket book at any state park, beach, or recreation area that offers camping.



'KING' SET FOR MUSIC EXPO '72—Chuck Berry, 'king of rock and roll,' will headline the National Music and HiFi Expo '72 at San Francisco's Cow Palace Oct. 6-8. Berry will appear Saturday, Oct. 7, at 8 p.m. Other performers featured in the show include Bo Diddley, jazz artists Cannonball Adderley and Joe Williams, country-western stars Ray Price and Donna Fargo, and many others.

Register Now For Field Trip

Places are still open for those wishing to go on a three-day geology field trip next weekend to Yosemite sponsored by Monterey Peninsula College.

The one-unit course, Geology 190, will study evidence of glaciation, volcanism and interruption of the "chain of life," according to the teacher, Ken Peterson.

For those who have not previously registered for the field trip, a $5 registration fee will be charged. In addition, all participants must pay for transportation, room and board for the three days. Participants will leave on Friday, Sept. 29.

Those interested in going on the field trip should contact Peterson at MPC by calling 375-9821, ext. 330 during normal business hours.

Inform DMV Of Move, Says State

It has never been more important--or easier--for California motorists to inform the Department of Motor Vehicles that they have moved to a different address, says Joseph Walton, manager of the local DMV office, at Seaside.

As a service to each motorist whose drivers license is about to expire, DMV is mailing him or her a renewal reminder about two months before the expiration date.

The notice also doubles as the driver's application for renewal, cutting up to 15 minutes from the time he will have to spend at the DMV office.

However, thousands of these notices are being returned to DMV because the driver is not being reached at his last knwon address.

(The notices go by first class mail, and are forwarded when possible, but even the Post Office can't find many people who have left no forwarding address.)

In November, DMV will mail out millions of registration renowal forms to California vehicles owners. Many whose new addresses aren't known to the Department won't get their notices in time, and could wind up paying penalties.

DMV has an address change form on which can be listed up to four drivers in a family, and up to four vehicles the family may own. "People may pick up one of these forms at our local office," said Walton, "or call us and we'll be glad to mail them one."

One California family in five moves each year. Not nearly that many remember to notify DMV, even though the law says that California vehicle owners and drivers must send the Department their new address within ten days.

Classes Have Openings

Openings still exist in beginning guitar and general math classes being offered for adults at Seaside High School, Cedric Jasper, assistant director of adult education for the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District, has announced.

Jasper said the general math class will provide instruction in basic mathematics skills and beyond, depending on student progress. The class will also help students who are preparing to take the General Education Development (GED) test. There is a $3 registration fee which is waived for students working toward a high school diploma, and the class is offered Mondays and Wednesdays from 7 to 10 p.m.

Beginning guitar is offered on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 8 p.m. There is $3 registration fee and students must supply their own instruments.

Adults can register for either class at Seaside High School's adult education office between 7 and 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

MPC Offers Referrals

Monterey Peninsula College will provide a student housing referral service this year in an effort to help students and landlords get together.

If the rental has not been taken by the end of the two-week period, said Norris, the landlord could request that it remain on the board. More information about how the system will work may be obtained by calling Norris at 375-9821, extension 333.

HEATERS

A dairy cow produces 75,000 BTU's of heat per day, and only two or three cows are required to heat a room. A small herd of 15 will heat the average five-room home!

Film Show Planned

A rich and varied program of art films will be presented at the Tantamount Theatre, Middle Cayon Road., Carmel Valley, 8 p.m. Sunday, October 8. The event will benefit the Arts Coordinating Council of Monterey County.

The two hour program will consist of six films of various lengths concerning ballet, African sculpture, architecture and music and includes a delightfully funny animated film from Czechosiovakia titled "Why Do You Smile Mona Lisa?" A film on the Royal Ballet features Margot Fonteyn and Rudolf Nureyev behind the scenes in rehearsal for Remeo and Juliet. The music of Buxtehude, 17th century organist-composer who was a forerunner and inspiration to Johann Sebastian Bach, played on the Compensius Organ in the Frederiksburg Palace in Denmark and a documentary on the Albright-Knox Gallery in Buffalo will from part of the program.

During intermission coffee will be served under the floodlighted oaks of the Tantamount's outdoor foyer, always a feature of performances at the Valley Theatre. An exhibition of etchings by Marc Dovey will be on view in the Green Room.

Owing to the very limited seating, advance purchase of tickets is recommended. They may be purchased at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art on Pacific Street in Monterey; the Pacific Grove Art Center; the Carmel Art Association, and the Thunderbird Bookstore in Carmel Valley. Mail orders enclosing $2 and a self addressed stamped envelope may be sent to the Arts Coordinating Council, Box 2344, Carmel.

Proceeds from the benefit will support Focus on the Arts, the calendar of arts events published each month by the Council and circulated throughout the County.
